Black Orpheus, a 1959 film that gained international acclaim, sets the Greek myth of Orpheus and Eurydice in the slums of Rio de Janeiro during Carnival. It is based on a play, Orfeu da Conceição, by the Brazilian writer Vinicius de Moraes, though Moraes denounced the film for not adhering to his work. In the film, Orfeo is a dancer in a samba school by day and a singer by night; Eurydice is a simple country girl who comes to the city to escape a mysterious man—possibly a physical ...
