Early Phase QT Data to Replace the TQT Study. • Exposure Response (ER) analysis provides enhanced power to exclude a QT effect of regulatory concern with lower sample size, in Phase 1 studies • This promotes the use of routine Phase 1 studies, augmented with intensive ECG and PK sampling, to replace the TQT study for assessing cardiac safety • Intensive QT (iQT) studies are increasingly accepted by regulators in lieu of the ICH-E14 mandated TQT studies, potentially saving cost and ...
